Playing with other young lads while skating on the North Barre rink below the North Barre street school Saturday evening, Gino Sandri, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominico Sandri of 3d Third street, suffered a broken left leg. He, with other young lads, was playing "tag." When two of them came together Sandri fell to the ice with his leg twisted under him and the weight of the other lad falling upon him snapped the bone between the ankle and knee. He is now resting at his home, the bone having been reset.

The 810 gold piece was last evening awarded to Miss Katherine Hawkins of Montpelier and Edward Milne of Barre in the walking competition held in Howland hall. The couple were one of 10 to enter the competition for the prize waltz, and after a lengthy competition, Mr. Milne and his partner remained on the floor, all others having disqualified. The judges, Paul Scampini, Mrs. R. C. Gamache and Mrs. W. M. Holden, chose this couple over the others on the point that their heels touched the floor less than the other competitors. The dance was conducted by Anthony Rotelli and Charles Sassi, Carroll's orchestra furnishing music.

The Barre army recruiting station was closed yesterday shortly after Captain J. M. Cole, state inspector of army recruiting, arrived here. After conferring with Corporal Arthur C. Noeling of Albany, N. Y., who has been in charge of the Barre office since its opening Jan. 6, Captain Cole gave orders to close the city court room as a recruiting station. Just as other recruiting officers have found it, Corporal Noeling found Barre a poor field for army aspirants, and in nearly a month but two enlistments were received through the Barre office. The two mentioned were James A. Mortimer, 20, who enlisted in the infantry of the 5th division at Camp Jackson, S. C., and John M. McDonald, 18, who enlisted in the 63d infantry at Plattsburg, N. Y. Any inquiries concerning recruiting should be directed to the army recruiting station at Newport, to which Corporal Noeling went this morning. Vermont now has four army recruiting stations open, permanent ones at Burlington and Rutland, and temporary offices at Newport and Brattleboro.

MONTPELIER

Montpelier Legion Won from Fast Laconia, N. H., Team, 48 to 23.

The Montpelier American Legion basketball team defeated the Laconia, N. H., team in the armory last evening by a score of 48 to 23. The game was seen by a crowd that packed the house, for the visitors came with the claim of being the fastest team in New Hampshire. The visitors got going in the last two periods of playing so that it had not been for the fast work of Clark in the first period the home team would not have won. There was a lot of team work by both teams in the last two periods. Harris was the star man for the Laconia team. He got 15 of the points made by his team. The local team has improved its style of play and is working more like a unit now. The lineup of the local team was: Forwards, Gross and Clark; center, F. Laird; backs, Bartlett and J. Laird; Laconia: Forwards, Simpson and Vallier; center, Harris; backs, O'Shea, Callahan and Conrad. Baskets, Montpelier, Clark 8, Gross, Bartlett 4, F. Laird 3, J. Laird; from fouls, Clark 2, J. Laird; Laconia, Harris 7, O'Shea 2, Vallier, Callahan; from fouls, Harris, Conrad; referee, Swaffield; timer, Laird; scorer, Shepard; time, three 15-minute periods.

Charles S. James of Weybridge has been appointed justice of the peace in place of J. A. James, who recently died.

Professor E. A. Shaw of Northfield was a visitor in the city during the day.

Harry Mattson, deputy game warden, who has been in the city for a couple of days, went to his home in Rutland this morning.

Mrs. Lawrence Howd of Northfield was a visitor in the city this morning.

Redfield Proctor, who has been spending the first of the week in the city, has gone to his home in Proctor.

Myron M. Miles, age 86 years, died at his home in Middlesex during the night, after a short illness. He was a native of that town, a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Miles, and was active in town affairs for many years. He retired some years since. He moved from his farm in Middlesex to the village in 1892. He represented the town in 1878 and was for 13 years a constable, many years a lister and town treasurer. He was born April 9, 1834. He is survived by one son, Fred Miles. His wife died some years ago. The funeral occurs at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Governor James H. Harniss sent to Governor Baxter of Maine the regrets of Vermont that Governor Parkhurst had died the night following the advice of his death. Mason S. Stone, ex-lieutenant-governor, and H. T. Johnson, adjutant-general, went to Augusta yesterday to attend the funeral which took place at 10 o'clock this morning.

A special meeting of the city council took place last evening when matters pertaining to the recommendations of the council were discussed and if the school board does not call for too much money the city ought to pull through on a $270 tax, barring, of course, the possibility that the legislature may assess a direct state tax.

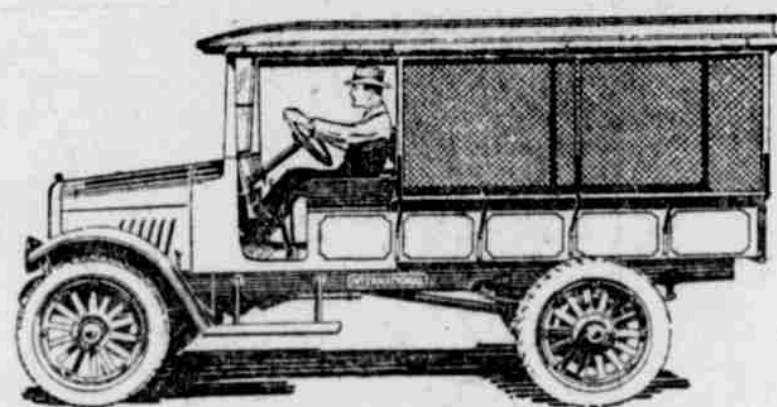

Chief V. B. Parsons has prepared his annual report for the printers which shows that the cost of maintenance of the fire department for the year has been $10,388.86, while there has been sold property amounting to $275.50, so that the net cost is $10,113.36; but this does not take into consideration the sale of one horse and some material not yet paid for; nor the installing of an additional heating plant. The fire truck, which cost $8,200, is not included in his account. The total paid losses amount to $13,893.49, while the personal loss was $2,600. The property at risk because of the fires amounted to $887,000. The invoice of property shows there is $30,000 owned by the city in that department. His only recommendation is 1,000 feet of new hose.
